232	Peter Michael, Cuvée Indigène , Knights Valley, California, 2009.....	139

Chehalem's Pinot Gris (905) is vivid, full, and dry with deep stone fruit and mineral flavors.

Gewurztraminer is a magical wine with many of Chef David's Asian-influenced dishes. Try the Marcel Hugg (207) with spicier fare, where its sweetness lends balance. Schlumberger's Cuvée Christine (801) is a rare treat at the peak of maturity.

An exceptional white, Cave de Turckheim Pinot Blanc (212) is drinking beautifully, offering vibrant melon flavors and bright acidity. Try with salmon or swordfish.

Ed Sbragia's Sauvignon Blanc (215) is incredibly appealing with layers of tropical fruit and citrus flavors in a tight, refreshing package.

Combining power and finesse, Peter Michael's Chardonnays are the best white wines made in America. Look to La Carrière (233) for minerality, Belle Côte (230) for floral notes, Ma-Belle Fille (229) for intense ripeness, and Cuvée Indigène (232) for a brilliant synthesis of the three.

“Burgundy makes you think of silly things; Bordeaux makes you talk about them, and Champagne makes you do them.” - Brillat-Savarin

Chehalem’s Stoller Vineyard Pinot Noir (488) is a gorgeous example of one of Oregon’s finest terroirs. We are the only restaurant in New England that offers this wine.

From a producer more often associated with Napa Valley Cabernet, Tom Eddy’s Manchester Ridge Pinot Noir (501) is an alluring, vivacious wine, one that goes as well with salmon as it does chicken or fillet.

Giovanni Corino’s single vineyard Barolo (416) is full of sweet black fruit flavors and the sort of ripe tannins that cry out for red meat.

Another muscular Italian red to pair with steaks and braised meats, Masi’s single vineyard Mazzano Amarone (425) is dry for the style, with compelling dried fruit and herbal flavors.

Vega Sindoa, El Chaparral (917) is crafted from 60-100 year old Garnacha vines in Spain’s Navarra region. One of the best values on this list, this is full-bodied, savory and notably complex.

 Indicates that the grapes for this wine were grown organically.

326	Owen Roe, Rosa Mystica , Yakima Valley, Washington, 2008	59

Washington State Syrah is one of the world's last great under-the-radar wines. The quality for the price here is unreal! Look to the Charles Smith wines for opulence, the K Vintners, Cayuse and Reynvaan offerings for wild aromatic complexity and the Dusted Valley wines for pure, silky textures.

Perhaps the biggest and boldest wine on the list, Robert Foley's Petite Sirah (484) is inky purple in color, with deep black fruit flavors and mouth filling richness.

A sturdy, though generous blend of mainly Merlot and Cabernet Franc, Spring Valley Uriah (320) is surely a rare American Merlot that can please the diehard Cabernet drinker.

Made from 50 to 100 year old vines, St. Francis Old Vine Zinfandel (919) is round and spicy with excellent depth. Try with pork or grilled meats.

Drinking well above its price point, Mount Eden's Estate Cabernet Sauvignon (471) is elegant and harmonious with complex dark fruit and savory notes.

Ripe and juicy without tasting overwrought, only 250 cases of Beringer's St. Helena Home Vineyard (336) Cabernet were produced in 2002. Most were sold to mailing list clients and winery visitors. I picked up several cases and have passed on this incredible value to you.

While fans of Bordeaux may be in a frenzy over the ripe 2009 vintage, I remain enamored with 2000 and 2005, classic years that produced robust, but decidedly elegant wines. Haut-Bailly (427) and Boyd-Cantenac (507) are not to be missed!

Dominus - owned and run by Christian Moueix of Château Petrus fame - is perhaps my favorite estate in Napa Valley. The wines made here are focused, structured and decidedly food-friendly.

Tom Eddy is a true master of Cabernet, and his ultra-rare 2004 Dr. Crane Vineyard (441) offering might be his finest ever. Only one bottle of this gem remains in our cellar.
